

Radio gives singers chance to reach global audience

By Stephanie Siegel

paulding@

neighbornewspapers.com

Prisonworld Records is offering a new, one-hour radio show with co-hosts Jenny Triplett of Powder Springs and a capella group Likely Suspect.

The show is live at 9 p.m. Sundays on the Artist First Radio Network artist-first.com and is archived on the site in mp3 format.

Headed by husband and wife Rufus Triplett Jr. and Jenny Triplett, Prisonworld Records showcases a capella vocal music.

To bring the spotlight to unknown singers, each show will include a 15 Minutes of Fame segment, and twice per month the entire show will be devoted to unknown artists, who will sing a capella.

"We feel this is the best way to tell if someone has true raw talent," said Rufus Triplett, a member of Likely Suspect.

The Artist First Radio Network attracts more than 1.2 million monthly listeners globally, Mrs. Triplett said. After the initial interview with Likely Suspect, the station's owners were so impressed that they offered them their own show, she said.

Likely Suspect tours correctional facilities, middle and high schools, gang prevention programs and boys' and girls' clubs to bring their positive message to the masses.

"We deal with inmates and the prison systems on a daily basis, but there is so much more to what we do," said Mrs. Triplett, who also edits Prisonworld Magazine. "If we can help just one person, then we have accomplished our goal."

Information: (678) 233-8286 or prisonworldrecords.com.